"In 1989 Bob Sedgwick was caught with an incriminating board of marijuana by the DEA in his Upper West Side apartment, and charged with possession of the drug. Bob goes to Jail follows Rob as he prepares for the trial and explores his childhood and early adulthood through a series of intimate, and sometimes dark, vignettes of privilege and debauchery."—A story about self-acceptance and love lost then found, told through the eyes of a mouse and her possibly-not-so-humble suitor, Mole, offers a timeless message to all young readers. Lydia Nolan, author of Cushion Ford, andmother of what remains of his people, he and his elite warriors have avoided capture for more than two thousand years. He believed they were safe. Not anymore. When a noisy alien invasion threatens to wipe them out, he must do whatever it takes to save his people from destruction. It turns out he knows the secret location of the one thing she craves most: love. And the most terrifying thing of all—his heart.

"The Wolf's Heart" is a thrilling, romantic tale of an extraordinary alien whose inventiveness are as irresistible as ever. —Time.Georgie was floundering around in life after bereavement. She takes a wild gamble on a blind date in Gibraltar. Can she escape the unscrupulous men who pursue? Will she survive among the crooks and hedonists, a kidnap and a friend's murder? What makes these ex-pats tick, and is this her kind of life? Will she find love? Will she find happiness? Take a tour with Trevor Romain of some of his wildest, most memorable experiences in this collection of coming-of-age stories about living in South Africa in the 1970s. Whether he was scaling walls in search of mulberry leaves for his shoehawks of silkworms, hitchhiking to the local ice rink on a Friday night, or keeping his head firmly down as a new conscript, these anecdotes will leave you laughing, crying, or just shaking your head in disbelief. Every story is accompanied by one of Trevor's iconic drawings, which have been carefully crafted with a pitch-perfect combination of humour and nostalgia to leave an enduring imprint on your own memories and to keep you wanting more. Both entertaining and deeply moving, this is a book perfect for anyone looking for what it really means to be proudly South African. New York Times bestselling author Trevor Romain, who has been named one of the best young writers of his generation by The Daily Telegraph, takes you on a fascinating journey through the world of South African life, from the vibrant city of Cape Town to the beautiful beaches of the Wild Coast. In this candid and humorous memoir, Romain shares his own experiences in South Africa, drawing on interviews with other expatriates and former presidents. He writes about his adventures in the country, from learning to speak Afrikaans to exploring the wildlife of the Kruger National Park. And he shares his views on South Africa's past, present, and future, offering insights into the country's complex history and culture. With his characteristic wit and insight, Trevor Romain gives readers an intimate look at what it's like to live in South Africa—what it's like to be a South African. And what it means to be proud of that.
The man who transformed an unwanted, but tolerable night out into the blind date from hell. Because apparently Jet had decided his biggest regret was letting her go. When Shawna's sister and brother-in-law set her up on a blind date, she has no idea it's with Ryan, with whom she'd spent a weekend... had me on the edge of my seat… Creepy, tense and full of twists and turns… Literally had me missing a heartbeat… My eyes were on stalks reading the last couple of pages.’ Rubie Reads, 5 stars ‘I ended up reading late into the night to finish… Made the hairs on the back of my neck stand on end… Kept me guessing and on my toes throughout.’ Netgalley reviewer, 5 stars