Multicultural and Social Justice Counseling Competencies - From Rattle #15, Summer 2001 Ward Kelley: "Poetry took me by the proverbial scruff of the neck and began a passionate affair which included all the nuances of love, such as infatuation, anger, lust, apathy; then at least there came a year where we both broke free into a certain sublimation, and I learned, after 35 years, that the art lies in uncovering how to allow...

Dr. Mary Main’s Adult Attachment Interview (AAI) | "Don't Oct 01, 2000 - Same animals seem to feel embarrassment; that is, they hope to cover up some event and the accompanying feeling. Goodall (2008) observed what could be called embarrassment in chimpanzees. When Fifi’s oldest child, Freud, was five and a half years old, his uncle, Fifi’s brother Figan, was the alpha male of the chimpanzee community.

Long-Term LSD Side Effects: Bad Trips, Overdosing Mar 21, 2014 - I hope you get to present this in written and other forms to many lay and professionals. I hear echoing in my mind Dan Siegel’s remark that “The most robust indicator of balanced functioning of the young child’s brain is the coherence of the self-narrative of the principal caretaker.”

Animal Emotions: Exploring Passionate Natures | BioScience Mar 17, 2016 - The hope you had for him was also hope that you had for yourself, that he would get life right at some point. In the crazy way that life/death are normal processes...it is only us, those who remain that have such difficulty letting go of all the expectations we held for our children and ourselves. My son was older than yours.

Why Christmas Stories Fill Us With Hope Jan 17, 2020 - Patrice Lumumba was a radical leader of the Congolese independence movement who resisted Belgian colonialism and corporate interests. That’s why he was assassinated in a US-backed coup 59 years ago today.

Cookie Absent - Wiley Online Library Nov 04, 2021 - What is meant by PACE? Playfulness, acceptance, curiosity and empathy... PACE is a way of thinking, feeling, communicating and behaving that aids to make the child feel safe. It is based upon how parents connect with their very young infants. As with young toddlers, with safety the child can begin to explore. With PACE, the troubled child can start to look at himself...

What is meant by PACE? - DDP Network Gain hope and strength through people’s stories. Vesna’s story. Vesna took up Waka Ama where her hearing disability wasn’t an issue. She went on to beat depression and win elite level sporting titles. Mindfulness, medication and her husband’s support helped Emma overcome people’s negative perceptions of her health problem. Home | Depression and Anxiety Jan 27, 2016 - Counselors and clients both bring to the therapeutic relationship a constellation of identities, privileged and marginalized statuses, and cultural values, beliefs and biases to which counselors need to attend. Furthermore, clients increasingly bring to counseling issues of inequity that lead to unhealthy risk factors.

Rattle: Poetry | ... without pretension since 1995. Dec 08, 2021 - The life of Christ is the greatest story ever told. But in terms of popularity, and thanks to television, our two most popular Christmas stories, that return to charm us each Christmas Season, are Charles Dickens’ A Christmas Carol and Franks Capra’s cinematic production of It’s a Wonderful Life. The latter was inspired by Civil War historian Philip Van...

My Adult Son’s Death Has Changed My Life - Open to Hope A sense of paralyzing ambiguity predominates, punctuated by pining. Intermittent or nonreciprocal responses lead to labile vacillation between despair and ecstasy. This limbo is the threshold for mental prostration. The sensitivity that stems from fear of rejection can darken perceptions of the limen's object's body language.
